Ricky, Wade, Ann, & Nicole,

It is our pleasure to recommend Langley Homes, Inc. to any prospective client and to express sincere gratitude for making our custom home building dream come true. We couldn't have asked for nicer people and a more competent builder. What an amazing experience.

From the initial meeting with our rough sketches, through the design and construction phase, to the final walk through, we were simply taken care of. This, as it seemed to us, during a busy building season. Any question, concern, or inevitable change was handled quickly and professionally. In short, our trust and confidence grew throughout the project. Also, the speed and skill with which the contractors worked was remarkable. They were always friendly and courteous whenever we stopped by to check on progress. The final product is a well-built house with quality materials throughout, a home we can be very proud of.

For us the whole process was a leap of faith having never done it before. We needed an experienced builder and feel very blessed to have found the Langleys. Anyone thinking of building should stop by and see the work that they do. Undoubtedly, you will be impressed and will get the same good feeling we got. In the end, they were more than a builder, they were a caring partner on our home construction journey.

Sincerely,
Eric & Cindi Kjellberg
